After judge throws out legal bid to halt plans to build thousands of homes north of Harlow, opponents refuse to give up their fight

A WAR OF ATTRITION

CAMPAIGNERS waging a battle to prevent thousands of homes being built on open countryside bordering Harlow have vowed to fight on despite the failure of a legal challenge to the proposals.

At the end of a three-day hearing at the High Court, estimated to have cost £50,000, a judge upheld the legality of the Harlow North blueprint which makes up part of the controversial East of England Plan.

By LOUISE SASSOON, News Editor

It had been argued the Government had failed to comply with European rules on the environmental assessment of the development before publishing it as part of the EoEP last year.

But Mr Justice Mitting ruled that procedures had been properly followed and said the plan, which would transform a swathe of land to the north of the A414 and effectively act as a huge expansion of Harlow with at least 10,000 homes, did not have to be reconsidered.

Nigel Clark, secretary of pressure group STOP Harlow North which was in court for the start of the hearing, said there were still plenty more opportunities to derail the the proposals.

Setback for Harlow North protestors after legal challenge fails

"We are disappointed by the decision but the case did hinge on a narrow legal point," he said. "We still believe there is a strong case and we will be challenging Hertfordshire County Council to appeal.

"We have not put all our eggs in one basket with the judicial review. It has given us a year's delay and we are aware a deal to buy the land from Ropemakers has still not been sealed.

"There is still no planning application and there's the whole scenario of the local development framework which has to be developed over the next year or so. There will be some point where the views of the public differ from those the Secretary of State."

However, the judge's ruling has been welcomed by the leaders of all three political parties on Harlow Council.

They say the plan will assist the town's regeneration and help to transform Harlow into a major sub-regional shopping centre through investment and opportunities.

The judicial review hinged on one point – whether the Secretary of State had considered the alternatives in a strategic environmental assessment before publishing the EoEP.

In the same legal challenge, which was mounted by Hertfordshire County Council and St Albans District Council, the judge ruled that proposed developments at Hemel Hempstead, Welwyn Garden City and Hatfield must be reconsidered because the environmental impact had not been properly thought through.

Mr Clark added: "As campaigners we are fighting a long war of attrition. The Government still has to address the significant infrastructure deficit around Harlow which is estimated at £1bn.

"We will continue to highlight these flaws and the unstainable nature of Harlow North at every opportunity and will need help in further public consultations later this year."

Five-party fight as BNP join poll

By LOUISE SASSOON
News Editor
sassoonl@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THE far right British National Party is hoping to exploit public dissatisfaction with the main political parties by fielding candidates in all three Harlow divisions in next week's county council elections.

It is the first time the BNP has contested seats in the town and supporters have been delivering election literature to homes throughout the area in a bid to gain votes.

BNP candidates will be up against Conservative, Labour, Liberal Democrat and Green Party opponents in Harlow North, Harlow South East and Harlow West in Thursday's poll.

Steve McCole, sub-regional organiser for the BNP which is fielding candidates in every seat across the county, denied the party was racist and said it simply addressed issues others ignored.

"We have a lot of members and a lot of inquiries coming in from Harlow so there's clearly support for us there," he said.

But the BNP's appearance on ballot papers has not been welcomed by the party's opponents.

Paul Kirkman, Labour group leader on Essex County Council, said: "They are a racist, fascist party. They may put on a suit to pretend they are otherwise but that's not what they are.

"It will be unpleasant and disappointing if they get in but they will never run the council because they do not understand the democratic process.

"I think this is a symptom of a malaise where people are fed up with mainstream parties so we are having to double our efforts to make sure we tell the public that our policies are the best."

Linda Pailing, who is standing for the Liberal Democrats in Harlow South East, said she believed the BNP's decision to stand was a bad thing for the electorate of the town.

"I am concerned and I hope people take a serious look at what their local politicians want to do locally and not focus on what is happening in national politics," she added.

Lee Dangerfield, one of the Conservative candidates in the Harlow West division where voters must elect two councillors, said although he did not agree with the BNP, it was up to voters to do what they felt was right.

This week the Bishop of Chelmsford urged electors to use their votes on June 4. In a direct appeal to voters, the Rt Rev John Gladwin said: "There can be no room for complacency.

"Racist parties have put up candidates. It will be no good complaining if the wrong people get elected if we do not exercise our democratic right and vote."

● VOTERS will also be going to the polls on Thursday to choose their regional members of the European Parliament. For a full list of candidates standing in the eastern region, which includes Harlow, log on to www.harlowstar.co.uk and click on the 'Daily News' link.

Flat blaze victim died from smoke inhalation

A WOMAN died and her boyfriend was left with devastating brain damage after inhaling toxic smoke from a fire which was started deliberately a Chelmsford Crown Court jury heard this week.

The blaze began in a ground floor flat below the one in which Kerry Youngs and Kevin Chapple lived but forensic scientist Ian Littley said the window of their flat failed to hold back the poisonous fumes.

He also said he had no doubt that the fire was started deliberately.

Mr Littley was giving evidence at the trial of two teenagers accused of starting the blaze. Miss Youngs (24) never regained consciousness and died two days after the fire at Sherwood House in Bush Fair, Harlow, on May 4, 2005. Mr Chapple remains severely brain damaged.

Mr Littley said examination of the bedsit area of the ground floor flat revealed petrol which led to the conclusion the fire was started on purpose.

He also told the court that escape down the stairs at the flats would have been impossible because smoke from the fire rose up the stairwell, preventing people from using it.

Jurors have been told two boys aged 13 and 14 at the time had been bullying the occupant of the flat below and had started the fire.

Carl Manton (18), of Long Banks, Harlow and a 17-year-old, also from Harlow, deny charges of murder, manslaughter, grievous bodily harm and arson with intent to endanger life and being reckless as to whether life was endangered.

A woman aged 40 and a 37-year-old man deny acts tending or intending to pervert the course of justice and a 15-year-old girl denies making a false statement.

Arsonist 'got a buzz' from starting fires

A MAN suffering a mental illness has been made the subject of a hospital order after a court was told he got a "buzz" from starting fires.

Judge Rodger Hayward Smith said the public had to be protected from Malcolm Dedman (50), formerly of Stanfields Court, Harlow, and he also had to be protected from himself.

Dedman was declared unfit to enter a plea at his trial at Chelmsford Crown Court last month on charges of arson and and being reckless as to whether lives would be in danger.

The court was told he had set fire to recycling bins at a block of flats in Broadfields, Harlow, on October 25 2007.

The jury made a finding of fact that he had committed the offence and sentence was adjourned until Friday.

The judge described it as "a very sad case" and one in which he had no hesitation in making a hospital order under the Mental Health Act and a restriction order without time limit.

It means that a mental health tribunal panel will have to review the case before Dedman, who has been found a place at a psychiatric unit in Colchester, is released.

The judge said "Malcolm, as he prefers to be known, has a buzz, a sense of excitement from lighting fires, hearing fire sirens, seeing the fire engine and firemen preparing their equipment.

"He has started fires in 1975, 1993, 1998, 1999, 2001, 2003 and in October 2007 when he started one in a block of flats or maisonettes.

"The 2001 incident was particularly serious because he was trying to light a fire near a gas pipe.

"He has said in the past he heard voices telling him to light fires. It's a very worrying case. One can only feel very sorry for him but the public must be protected."

At the earlier hearing the judge awarded commendations and cash rewards to two residents of Broadfields who put out the fire and checked the flats to make sure no-one was in them.

Dean Cardell and Victoria Wright were each awarded £250 from the High Sheriff's fund.

Rapid response scheme for jobless gets politicians' vote

A SCHEME which helped redundant Woolworths workers find new jobs has proved such a success in Harlow that it is being extended to help other people stuck in the dole queue.

The Rapid Response initiative, which provides instant support and advice to people who have lost their jobs, has helped all but five of 19 ex-Woolies employees back to work.

Now the initiative, run by Seetec based at Terminus House, has received additional EU funding and been given a new name – Response to Redundancy – so that it can help more people find jobs.

Essex Euro MP Richard Howitt and Harlow MP Bill Rammell dropped in to launch the revamped scheme on Friday and to hear how the project has helped Woolworths staff.

One of the people they spoke to was the store's former deputy manager, David McCormick (24), who told them how he got in touch with the scheme in December and is now working as a team leader at Home Store and More in the Queensgate Centre.

Mr Howitt said: "One of my key priorities for the European elections is to make sure that European cash helps Harlow families get through these tough times. The work that Seetec are doing here in Harlow is testament that Europe can help."

Mr Rammell added: "David and the other former Woolies workers we met show that support exists for employees in Harlow and it is working.

"Harlow communities are benefiting from our co-operation with Europe so let's not put that under threat in these European elections."

Town's bingo brigade calls for a U-turn on 'unfair' tax

BINGO players in Harlow are calling on the Government to scrap its decision to raise the tax duty on the profits paid by the promoters to 22 per cent.

More than 160 customers and staff at the Mecca bingo hall in Terminus Street have written to MP Bill Rammell to complain about the rise.

Mecca manager Bernie Dullaghan said: "Our customers just can't understand why the Government is targeting women.

"It just doesn't seem to be fair that someone can go to bookies and place a bet and only pay 15 per cent tax while our customers have to pay 22 per cent.

"For some this is the only opportunity they have to socialise with other people and it would be criminal if clubs are forced to close because the Government is discriminating against one of the nation's favourite past times."

Mr Rammell said he had been told by Treasury officials that recent changes to bingo taxation had removed the VAT charged on participation fees but increased bingo duty.

"I have written to the Chancellor to seek further reasuurances as I feel bingo provides an excellent lesiure and social activity, in particluar for older people," he added.

Time is running out to join the Midnight Walk

THE great news this week from the Midnight Walk team is that the number of people who have registered to take part has now broken the 1,000 barrier.

A team of staff and volunteers from St Clare Hospice were in Harlow to give out leaflets promoting the walk and encouraging more people to sign up.

"It really seems to have made a difference and we now have over 1,000 ladies registered," said events organiser Tracy Meale. "That is more than this time last year so we are looking forward to a huge event this year.

"We had 1,300 walkers last year and this year we are hopeful that we will exceed that total. Lots of people stopped us in the Water Gardens this week to find out why we were dressed up. Many said they were meaning to sign up and that it sounded like a fantastic event to take part in.

"We are urging people that do want to take part not to put it off too much longer as there are only TWO WEEKS left to register."

The Midnight Walk, which is once again supported by the Star, takes place on June 20 but registration closes eight days earlier on June 12.

The starting point will be the Water Gardens in Harlow town centre. Entertainment will be provided before the walkers set off on a 10km route along the town's footpaths and cycle paths. The aim is to raise at least £120,000 for the hospice.

As well as the walk itself, there will be plenty of fun to have in the lead up to the start.

"We are now getting excited about the entertainment planned for the night including street entertainers, face painters, Ten17 hits road show, stalls and, of course, the pink goodie bags and flashing bunny ears," said Tracy.

"I'm sure it's going to be a great night for everyone but most importantly the event will raise thousands of pounds towards the care of local people with life limiting illnesses, that rely on the care of St Clare when they need it most."

THE THREE WAYS TO REGISTER

HUNDREDS of people have already registered to take part in this year's Midnight Walk but hundreds more are needed if the £120,000 target is to be reached.

Tracy Meale, event fundraiser for St Clare, said: "We would love to see the sign-up forms (below) flooding in next week. Alternatively, people wanting to take part can sign up on our website."

The 10km walk, which starts in Harlow town centre, follows a planned route along the town's streets and cycle paths. It is open to both men and women, as well as children aged over 14. Those aged 14 and 15 must be accompanied by a responsible adult who is registered to take part in the walk.

"We want to make this year even bigger than last year's hugely successful night," said Tracy. "Why not get a group of friends together and sign up to have a fun night

Man acted as drugs driver after running up £700 debt

A DRUG user who ran into debt with a dealer agreed to act as their wheel man to bring hard drugs into Harlow, a court heard.

Chase Clarke (24) acted as driver for the dealer as a means of paying off what he owed, Chelmsford Crown Court was told.

However, he was was caught in two separate undercover police operations as he ferried heroin to Basildon and crack cocaine to Harlow.

Clarke, of Candy Street, Bow, admitted seven offences of being concerned in the supply of drugs. Three of the charges related to heroin in Basildon in October and four to crack cocaine in Harlow the following month.

The court was told that Clarke had smoked cannabis but progressed to hard drugs. He ran up debts amounting to £700.

Richard Connolly, representing Clarke, said in mitigation he had initially been able to afford to pay for his recreational habit of smoking cannabis but soon fell in with people who used harder drugs and ran up the bill.

He had offered to sell his car to pay off the £700 debt but this was rejected and he felt he had no alternative but to act as a driver for the dealer.

Jailing Clarke for 30 months, Judge Roger Hayward Smith told him he had fallen into the hands of evil people higher up the chain.

Pair in court on robbery charge

TWO men accused of a £25,000 armed robbery at the Sainsbury's store in Fifth Aveue, Harlow, appeared at Southend Crown Court on Friday.

Barry Askew (51), of Mallows Green, Harlow, and Colin Garrod, from Basildon, were both remanded in custody to appear again on June 18.

The defendants, who did not enter pleas, are charged with robbery, possessing a shortened firearm and three offences of money laundering.

Game on for the return of laser battles

By CHRIS MOSS
mossc@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A NEW leisure facility will give Harlow's town centre a shot in the arm and provide dozens of new jobs when it opens with a bang next month.

Quasar Elite, located above shops on Harvey Centre Approach, is an upgraded version of the laser gun game in which competitors zap each other in an adrenaline-pumping bid to be crowned top gun.

Sprawled across two floors and featuring a state-of-the-art battle arena, children's soft-play area, junior gym, restaurant and café, bosses claim the flagship Harlow branch will become the largest Quasar Elite in the world when it opens on June 20.

It will also be the base for the firm's manufacturing arm, providing up to 35 new jobs.

Managing director Bob Webb said he was confident Quasar Elite will be a success, despite the demise of Laser Quest, which operated on the same site but closed several years ago, and the original Quasar branch at The Stow.

"The problem with the Quasars of old was that they were often very poorly run," he said. "Since we took over the brand five years ago we've seen it go from strength to strength and now have an established international presence.

"Harlow will become our flagship branch and company headquarters. It will also be the first Quasar Elite to trial and benefit from exciting new developments in the technology which we are constantly working on to improve players' experiences of the game."

The arena itself will be based on a scaled-down version of New York, allowing players to battle in Times Square, duck behind the Statue of Liberty for cover and lie in wait for enemies on a broken-down subway train.

Mr Webb added: "This is the most amazing arena we have ever created. The attention to detail is fantastic and it really adds to the game's atmosphere.

"I just can't wait to open it up to the public; it's going to blow people away!"

Getting a taste of the Outdoors

A NATIONAL retailer of outdoor equipment and clothing is to open a new shop in Harlow.

GO Outdoors will occupy the former MFI building in Howard Way and hopes to start trading next month.

More than 70 positions will be created with the opening of the Harlow store and one in Basildon.

Celebration is a piece of cake

SHOPPERS visiting Sainsbury's supermarket in Harlow over the weekend were given a fun-filled lesson about the firm's past as the Fifth Avenue store joined in celebrations to mark the company's 140th birthday.

Staff dressed up as shop workers from different eras greeted customers with a wide range of extra-special offers on everything from cured ham to clothing.

Long-serving employee Ivy Lily, who has worked for the company for 46 years, cut a special commemorative cake.

Store manager Stewart Alderman told the Star: "We have a fantastic team here at Sainsbury's and everyone joined in and enjoyed themselves by dressing up to mark this milestone anniversary.

"Our customers could take advantage of loads of special offers throughout the weekend and some were even lucky enough to get a slice of cake with their shopping!"

County police cop more recruits

MORE police officers are to bolster the thin blue line in Essex.

Essex Police Authority has given the go-ahead to Essex Police to recruit 50 extra bobbies to patrol the streets.

The news comes in the same week as British Crime Survey figures show that of the 42 forces in England and Wales, Essex is ranked as seventh for public confidence.

Why we should vote in EU poll

SIR, I hardly know where to begin in replying to the letter from A.J. Harrison (Star, May 14) in which he advocates boycotting the European elections.

The EU undoubtedly has many faults but when one remembers the centuries of wars between a constantly changing mix of allies and enemies, culminating in the two world wars of the last century, I will settle for today's situation where war is not conceivable within the EU.

Consider, for example, the Balkans conflicts of the 1990s. Could they have happened had former Yugoslavia been a member of the EU? Today, Slovenia is a member and Croatia and Former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia are candidates. Indeed, there are those who argue that the ultimate solution to the continuing problems in the area is Serbia's membership.

On the subject of elections I make two points. First, the simple democratic one, that the right to vote in free elections which was fought for for so long and at such cost is precious and must not be devalued by failing to use it.

My mother was among the women who demanded the right to vote and who was old enough to use it in 1918 when it was finally achieved (though still originally not on equal terms with men). Until she died at the age of 99 I believe she never failed to exercise it whenever she had the opportunity. If the current situation is unsatisfactory, the answer is to become more involved in the whole political process, not to opt out.

Specifically on the Euro elections, the European Parliament is a part of the EU system which counterbalances the "democratic deficit" which is alleged to exist in the other parts – the Council and the Commission which actually make the laws and are made up of the member states' governments. It is the only major international body which is directly elected, and deserves support, not the ignorant denigration that it so often receives.

Finally, Richard Howitt, the only Labour MEP for the East of England, is far from anonymous. In addition to his work on local issues such as car industry jobs, as an EU spokesperson for human rights he is known from Colombia to Greece.

Sums don't tally

SIR, So vital housing services are at risk (Star, May 14). Could Harlow Council please tell us what services it now provides to its resident, let alone vital ones.

The report states the council will lose £400,000 in rent income each year if it follows Government guidelines. There are approx 10,000 council tenanted homes in Harlow and rents should go up by £2 as opposed to the £5 that Harlow Council increased them by in March. When I went to school, £3 multiplied by 10,000 equals £30,000, not £40,000. Is this the way the council manages our money?

Dennis Nadin's letter in the same edition really does prove the council cannot do its sums. It's time for complete transparent and open local government so residents who can add up or know how to put batteries in their calculator can check the accounts.

We have seen what secrecy has done to Westminster and Whitehall's credibility. Do we have to wait until the media gets round to Harlow Council or will they come clean now? If they have nothing to hide they have nothing to fear.

As a victim of crime I don't like what I see

SIR, As someone who has lived in Harlow for all of my 26 years and not a Daily Mail reader, I felt I had to respond to Brian Hopcroft's letter (Star, May 7).

Having never suffered a problem in this town in my early years, myself and members of my close family have been the victims of crime at least nine times in the past eight years

During this time we have had a car set on fire, four cars broken into, three bank cards cloned in shops in Harlow, a violent assault by a group that left a family member with a fractured eye socket, fractured elbow and needing multiple stitches, and, most recently, a burglary.

That does not include the various plant pots stolen from outside our houses or parts being taken from our cars such as radio aerials, wheel trims and wiper blades.

I am pleased Mr Hopcroft's world is less depressing but as my own experience is what I am judging this on I am concerned that crime in this town is getting worse.

I read that an average of two properties in Harlow are being broken into every day. When I open my front door I don't always like what I see.

H. Johnson
Shawbridge, Harlow

SIR, In response to Brian Hopcroft, I do not watch The Bill nor read the Daily Mail, just the Harlow Star.

My comments are to the point and based on what I have experienced, seen and constantly read in the very well-informed and educated Star.

My remarks about PCSOs being a drain and waste of resources, comes from facts stated by many police officers around London and from the public.

I agree the world is a beautiful place but for the people that choose to live anti-socially, commit crime and make it the frightening, crime ridden drug inhabited place it is today.

Crime is on the increase here in Harlow. That is the reality of the world that exists.

S. Sadler

At the heart of our democracy stand two great principals: representative and responsive government. In Harlow, an over-secretive council has become the master and we little better than surfs.

Ask for proof

SIR, I write in response to Dennis Nadin (Letters, May 14) and applaud him for his use of the Freedom of Information Act to obtain information of interest to the public.

This act is there to help with transparency and accountability. We have received pieces of information from the present council administration which have no factual basis and I can point to the information, which kept changing in details, on the alleged black hole left by the previous administration.

What amazed me was the fact that both the audited accounts and audit reports confirmed that piece of Tory information was a figment of imagination. However, it is quite likely the leadership did not understand the figures and information legally provided to them, hence the black hole seen only by them.

Can we trust such people to manage our finances effectively? I have my doubts. Les Coben, in his letter published in the Star on March 5, exposed the incompetence and disrespectful attitude of the present administration and the apparent lack of care for the vulnerable in our society – the elderly, the poor and the young.

My suggestion to all residents is that they should ask for proof on any information coming from quarters that find it difficult to tell the truth. Whether we can get the truth from such quarters is another issue.

Lack of toilets

SIR, On a recent visit to the Town Park I was appalled to find that the only public toilets available were the ones at Spurriers car park.

I did read in the Star some time ago that Harlow Council was intending to close amenities throughout parts of the town but to say the least it is ludicrous to close toilets where large numbers of people will be congregating during the summer months. To have only one set of toilets open to the public is ridiculous.

I would like to see the toilets reopened at Pets Corner as there are no alternative amenities available on this side of the town for anyone out walking or using the Town Park. I used to find these toilets most useful when I would walk to Edinburgh Way. It was nice to be able to walk through the Town Park and know that these facilities were available.

I understand that it is expensive to run public toilets but they are a necessity to the public.

Keep shop open

SIR, It is a tremendous shame that Harlow's Learning Shop is being closed down (Star, May 7).

I have recently been made unemployed and have been using these facilities since then. What I have learnt there has given me a new-found confidence and self-worth at a depressing and unsettling time.

Why does it have to close? I would have thought that it is needed more now than at any other time before. It is staffed by fantastic and helpful staff; it is such a shame. I would like to register my support for them and hope they find funding from somewhere to be able to carry on.

Parking woes

SIR, Further to your report about drivers being fined £70 for bad parking (Star, May 21), I have a mobility scooter and due to inconsiderate parking I have to travel a further 200 yards to cross the road due to some idiot who persistently parks on a dropped kerb.

I also have a disabled parking bay outside my home. All and sundry seem to think they have a right to park in it without displaying a blue disabled badge.

I for one hope Harlow Council enforce this long overdue measure as outlined in the Traffic Management Act 2004.

Council comes clean over graffiti request

A HOMEOWNER has thanked the Star for coming to his rescue after Harlow Council refused to send out maintenance workers to clean graffiti from the side of his house.

Warehouse worker Barry Baker (62), of The Hornbeams, was left fuming after vandals using a public footpath running alongside his property sprayed offensive messages and pictures on the wall.

But when Mr Baker contacted the council to report the graffiti and request that it be removed, he was shocked to be told he would have to do the work himself.

By CHRIS MOSS
mossc@hertsessexnews.co.uk

"The attitude of the person at the other end of the phone was disgusting," said Mr Baker. "They even had the nerve to suggest I should move house if I was bothered about graffiti.

"I have always worked hard, paid my council tax in full on the date it's due and never asked for any handouts from this council, but as soon as I need them to do something for me I get given the brush-off."

The council's current policy on graffiti covers its removal from public buildings, monuments and council properties, but the authority will not clean daubings from private residences unless they are deemed racist or offensive or if the homeowner is willing to pay for the work.

Mr Baker's wife, Sheena (62), added: "We were told the council won't ever send someone out to a privately-owned home to remove graffiti, but they seemed to suddenly change their minds after the Star got involved.

"It makes you wonder if these so-called customer service representatives actually know what they are talking about."

A council spokesman claimed there had been some confusion over the exact nature of the graffiti, adding that its contractors, Kier Harlow, eventually deemed it to be offensive enough to warrant removal free of charge.

"The council's policy is that there is a charge to remove graffiti from privately owned homes but we will remove graffiti deemed racist or offensive free of charge," he added.

MP keen for town's young people to share in jobs cash

HARLOW MP Bill Rammell is urging local organisations to work with him to ensure the town shares in a new £1bn fund for young people at risk of long-term unemployment.

In a meeting with business leaders and community representatives, Mr Rammell said he hopes to develop proposals for new jobs that young people can do in the local community.

The move comes after the Government announced its intention to create an extra 150,000 positions as part of the Future Jobs Fund.

"In the last recession young people were left on the scrapheap," he said. "I am determined that this should not happen this time and that every young person who would otherwise be long-term unemployed gets a job or training

"We need to work together to make sure we use this opportunity to help young people get jobs but also to make sure those jobs help the community."

The Future Jobs Fund is part of more than £3bn investment in extra skills and training for jobseekers.

Oh we do like to be beside the seaside!

RESIDENTS of a care home need look no further than the view from their window for a beachside experience.

A seaside resort complete with sand, beach hut and a fat lady photo board have been incorporated into a special outdoor area at Abbeyfield Cunningham House in North Weald.

The garden has been designed to stimulate residents' memories and follows on from the success of a Hollywood Walk of Fame themed room which opened last year.

Care home manager Rosemary Moor said: "Because so many remember happy days by the sea we decided to develop a beach-style garden area that offers stimulations of the mind and body and evokes memories from the past which we hope will improve the quality of life for residents."

The garden was formerly opened by Epping Forest MP Eleanor Laing yesterday (Wednesday). She is pictured, third left, with Abbeyfield chief executive Paul Allen, regional care services manager Annett Gardener and director of care services Helena Little.

Year-on-year fall in hospital infections

STAFF at hospitals and health clinics are winning the battle against infections such as MRSA and Clostridium difficile.

Latest figures show there were only seven cases of MRSA reported in all NHS-run establishments in west Essex, including Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital, during the last financial year.

Over the same period there were 38 recorded cases of C. difficile at PAH while NHS West Essex, which had set a target of no more than 201 cases for the year, reported a total of 104 episodes.

PAH's C.difficile figure places the hospital trust as the best acute trust in the country.

Yvonne Blucher, executive director of nursing and patient care, said: "The trust has invested over half-a-million pounds in helping to reduce health care-acquired infections and we are pleased that our hard work and commitment has been reflected in our end-of -year figures."

Alison Cowie, NHS West Essex director of public health, said: "Much of our improvement has been due to joint work undertaken in partnership with Princess Alexandra Hospital NHS Trust.

"It is also due to numerous initiatives such as continued monitoring of cleaning, changes in clinical practice according to new national guidance and the introduction of MRSA screening for all patients admitted to our community hospitals."

New college completes a 'vision' for education

SIXTH form students in Harlow are set to benefit from a groundbreaking partnership between the town's college and four of its secondary schools.

The new West Essex Sixth Form College (WestVIc), which will offer A-level courses in a wide range of subjects, is the result of a collaboration between Burnt Mill, Mark Hall, Passmores and Stewards schools and Harlow College.

Speaking at the official launch on Friday, Harlow MP Bill Rammell said: "This is a fantastic idea offering more opportunities to young people in Harlow.

"If you look back to the early 1980s and what the intention was for education in Harlow, this initiative completes the vision. It will offer excellent pastoral care, continuity and, crucially will help keep young people in the education system."

Harlow College principal Colin Hindmarch added: "This unique partnership brings together unrivalled knowledge of the young people of Harlow. The partner schools have worked with them over a number of years and, because of this groundbreaking opportunity, these schools are now able to support their students through further education."

By LOUISE SASSOON, News Editor
sassoonl@hertsessexnews.co.uk

From September, WestVIc students will be taught in purpose-built accommodation on the Harlow College site. Staff from the four schools will teach the subjects along with lecturers from the college to ensure greater continuity of education.

Each school will also offer a specialist subject in accordance with its own skills and knowledge.

Burnt Mill School headteacher Stephen Chamberlain said: "It's a logical extension for both teachers and students to get the opportunities that they need for their own successful futures."

Jane Hadlow, of Mark Hall School, said there has been a 20 per cent increase in applications to the college as a result of the partnership, while Passmores head Vic Goddard said: "Our pupils are with us for five years and this initiative for post 16 education means that we don't lose that connection."

Stewards headteacher Rhonda Murther added: "Lots of young people will benefit from the independent learning style."

Garages get fresh lease of life after refurb work

WORK on the major refurbishment of a run-down garage block which has become a hotspot for anti-social behaviour has been completed.

The council-owned garages at Moorfields, Harlow were originally a two-storey block of 146 garages which had deteriorated into such a state of disrepair that the underground section had been sealed off for many years.

The site was cleared and work started in December 2008 to rebuild 30 bigger, more secure garages and create 38 much-needed parking spaces, including two disabled bays.

The transformation was completed last month.

Twins will celebrate their birthday together for first time in 60 years

AN elderly Harlow resident has a special reason to celebrate her 80th birthday today (Thursday) after her globetrotting twin sister travelled all the way from Australia to join the party.

Pearl Roalf, of Moorfield, was overjoyed to find her sister, Pat Peskett, on her doorstep earlier this month.

It will be the first time the twins have celebrated their birthday together since the 1950s.

They will be joined by Pearl's husband Peter and other family members for a celebratory meal at the Harlow Mill Beefeater this afternoon.

Mr Roalf told the Star: "Pearl was so pleased to see Pat again. We last had her over in 1992 so as you can imagine they have had a lot of catching up to do!

"They're both looking forward to celebrating this milestone together as it will be the first time they've been together on the day since they were both single girls celebrating their 20th. It's amazing how time flies!"

Fewer robberies on rail network but number of drug arrests soar

THE number of people arrested for drug-related offences on the rail network serving Harlow and the surrounding area has shot up, according to British Transport Police.

Latest figures show a rise of 54 per cent in drugs offences last year, up from 646 in 2007/08 to 996.

But overall the total number of recorded crimes in the London North patch, which includes East Anglia and the northern Home Counties, fell by two per cent.

Robberies, sexual assaults and criminal damage were all down but violent crime and theft of railway property increased.

Chief Superintendent Mark Newton, area commander for London North, said it was the fourth year running the number of robberies committed on the network has dropped.

"Uniformed officers working closely alongside detectives from our robbery squad have continued to track down and bring those responsible for robbery offences before the courts," he added.

The fall in the number of crimes has coincided with a 22 per cent rise in detection rates, up from 3,634 in 2007/8 to 4,426 in 2008/09.

New neighbourhood policing teams introduced at major transport hubs to tackle anti-social behaviour have improved police visibility and increased the number of arrests for theft and possession of drugs.

The increase in arrests for drugs offences has also been attributed to the use of sniffer dogs as part of operations targeting knife crime.

Store staff dress up for a Wild West fundraiser

TESCO staff were true to the company motto of 'every little helps' when they wore fancy dress to raise cash for charity.

Organisers of the Wild West day held at the Edinburgh Way store on Friday hope to raise around £2,000 for the Muscular Dystrophy Campaign.

Customers were treated to a barbecue and invited to enter a raffle to win a 42-inch plasma television.

The atmosphere was completed with country and western songs sung by Steve Perry.

Fundraising events were held at Tesco stores throughout the region and were expected to raise £27,000 for the charity.

Family pair on an Andes adventure

A FATHER and son team are taking a walk on the wild side to raise money for sick children.

By LOUISE SASSOON
News Editor
sassoonl@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Peter Broad (64) and Michael Ogilvie (36), who both live in the Netteswell area of Harlow, are in Peru for a trek along the Amazon and through the Andes Mountains and the Inca trail.

The pair, who hope to raise £6,000 for the children's ward at Princess Alexandra Hospital, have been training hard for the 16-day challenge.

By now they should have already spent three days and three nights in the jungle where they have been sleeping in wooden lodges to protect them from some of the deadly creatures and completed the three day and three night climb along the Andes which passed through the Pacamayo Valley before finishing in Machu Piccu.

They are expected home next week after completing a further three days and nights walking the Inca trail.

Speaking before they set off, Mr Broad said: "I have done things for the children's ward in the past but I thought this would be a good way to raise a bulk of money.

"I had looked at various fundraising projects before but a lot of them take the money for the holiday out of the amount collected so I decided to pay for it myself out of my own pocket."

He added: "I have been going to the gym and Michael has been doing the same. We are quite fit anyway but I have been walking for 20 minute stints on the running machine with the gradient going up to 15 at 5km a hour, so hopefully I will have prepared enough.

"I have been to hot countries before as well so the heat shouldn't be a problem."

The event, held in Sawbridgeworth and sponsored by The Rivers Hospital, raised £742. Special guest Mick 'The Pike' Brown presented a trophy and £100 cheque to Steve Charles, pictured above, who won the competition with a catch which tipped the scales at 28lb 2oz.

"It was a fun day and everyone who attended had a great time," said Mick. "Knowing that it had a positive benefit made it totally worthwhile."

A hospice spokesman said: "Our thanks go to Sawbridgeworth Angling Society for allowing us to use the lake and for all their support on the day."

The next competition will be held on Saturday, August 15 at Timberlands Fisheries in Harlow. Pegs are available for £20 and can be reserved from the hospice fundraising team on (01279) 773750.

Pupils have fun on plants hunt

FAWBERT AND BARNARD: Pupils were encouraged to let their interest in horticulture blossom when they took part in the Great Plant Hunt to mark the 200th anniversary of Charles Darwin's birth.

The project, commissioned by the Royal Botanic Gardens at Kew and funded by the Welcome Trust, was designed to encourage children to explore the natural world around them.

As part of the initiative pupils collected petals, leaves, twigs, feathers and seeds to stick on nature bangles. They also looked in the school grounds for common plants such as the dandelion, making a note of where they found them, if they were in flower or seed and then taking photos.

Some of the photos have now been uploaded onto the The Great Plant Hunt website. (s)

Safety in the saddle

ST ALBANS: Year 6 students saddled up and took to the road to gain their Level 2 Essex National Standard bikeability certificate.

Six pupils took part in a five-day course which follows on from a Stage 3 pedestrian safety scheme which was completed by pupils in the year.

As part of their bike proficiency course, the six cyclists had to take to the streets under supervision and prove they could cope with riding on the public highway.

A school spokesman said: "It is the first year the school has offered the bikeability course to students but we thought it would be a good way to encourage children to ride safely to school in the future."

Pub encounter that ended in marriage

By LOUISE SASSOON, News Editor
sassoonl@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A COUPLE of weeks ago we ran a request for readers' memories of the Orange Footman pub in Staple Tye. And once again you have come up trumps.

A letter arrived this week from Mick Westby (64) of Five Acres, Harlow, who has a very good reason to remember the pub because, as he says, it changed his life forever.

"I used to drink in there occasionally but the big effect it had on my life was when the singles club opened in the basement," he writes.

"I seem to remember that it was called the New Horizons club. This met on Friday evenings and was a good place to meet other single people, especially divorced and separated. The way it affected my life was that I met my wife there.

"It was in 1976, we were both divorced and lonely at the time and met one Friday evening.

"I think it must have been fate as we were married in 1978 and are still happily married now after 31 years.

The Orange pub had real appeal

FLASHBACK: Nostalgia, May 7

"I also remember that the club was used by so-called happily married men to find a bit on the side."

Mick's wife Betty (66) confirmed the series of events leading up to their meeting.

"I only went there on a Friday," she said. "It was funny because I had been going with a friend of mine and she told me to go to the bar and get her a drink. So I went and there was a fella at the bar who I turned around to and said 'You look so lonely, come and have a drink with us.'

"That was that. We married a few years later."

The pub changed hands after a fire and went on to become Peels nightclub. If you have any other memories about the Orange Footman or Peels, let us know by writing to Nostalgia, 6 West Gate, Harlow, CM20 1JW or by emailing sassoonl@hertsessexnews.co.uk.

Share memories of Cossor

THE name of Harlow firm Cossor has cropped up on these pages quite a few time in recent weeks so we thought the time was right to find out a little more about the company.

It moved to Harlow in 1958 after going from strength-to-strength in London and by the mid 1960s it had developed a radar suvellience system which was sold worldwide.

The picture above, which has been lent to us by The Museum of Harlow, was taken during the 1960s.

The company was acquired by Raytheon in 1962 but didn't change its name until much later.

If you have any memories of working at the company in the late 1950s or early 1960s let us know and we will share them with our readers.

Playhouse picket

Sacked members of Theatrevan educational group were picketing outside The Playhouse in protest against the loss of their jobs. The two Theatrevan actors were handed their notices last week following a dispute between the two sides.

Sunday trading row

Texas Homecare may still be prosecuted by Harlow Council if it continues to trade on Sundays. The home improvements giant which recently moved from Wych Elm to Edinburgh Way has already paid more than £400 in court fines for trading on Sundays in the past year.

Cancer test campaign

A group of angry women are launching a campaign to stop cervical smear tests being suspended for three months in Harlow. The tests may have to be put on hold because of a backlog which has built up.

Vandalism in The Stow

Vandals were on the rampage in The Stow during the Bank Holiday break. They kicked down a window at Abbey National Building Society causing £500 worth of damage.

Lots of fuss over a fossil

A PERFECTLY preserved fossil believed by scientists to be as much as 47 million years old could hold the key to the human race.

The search for a direct connection between humans and the rest of the animal kingdom has been going on for centuries.

The remains of the lemur-like animal were found by an amateur fossil hunter in Germany back in the 1980s but it is only now that scientists have been able to study it.

They say it could be very valuable in helping us to learn more about how humans evolved from the animals that lived on Earth before us.

The creature, which has been nicknamed Ida, had four fingers and opposable thumbs on its hands and feet, meaning it could hold objects in much the same way as humans and monkeys. It would also have been able to walk upright.

The fossil is so well-preserved that scientists have even been able to find out what Ida had for her last meal and see the outline of the thick fur that covered her body.

Most people today accept that humans most probably descended from primates but, until now, there has never been any concrete evidence of our evolutionary chain.

Happy Birthday

Police start new M11 safety drive

By CHRIS MOSS
mossc@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A NEW operation to drive down the number of fatal and serious accidents on the M11 motorway has been launched by Essex Police.

Primarily geared towards making the 40-mile stretch of motorway running through the county safer for drivers, Operation Minstrel will be spearheaded by road policing units working closely with Essex County Council's casualty reduction board.

Police are determined to reduce the toll of serious incidents on the motorway. Last year there were 21 compared to 40 in 2007.

Officers will use both marked and unmarked cars and motorbikes to take action against careless, dangerous and speeding drivers, while police vehicles equipped with automatic number plate recognition will patrol the motorway 24 hours a day to catch car thieves and those driving without road tax, insurance or a valid MOT.

Other agencies will also be working with police to deal with dangerous goods vehicles and suspicious loads. The Highways Agency will carry out extra patrols to assist motorists with vehicles which have broken down or been involved in collisions.

Sergeant Dan Barber, of the Chigwell road policing unit, said: "The message is clear; if you choose to disregard road traffic law which is in place to improve road safety and prevent collisions, or choose to use Essex roads to travel to commit crime, you can expect to be caught and prosecuted.

"The law-abiding public have nothing to fear and can expect improved road safety and reduced criminality as a result."

Eric gets a taste for dares

DARING dad Eric Rogers munched on creepy crawlies and walked on broken on glass as part of a week-long charity fundraiser.

Mr Rogers, of The Hides, Harlow, swallowed toasted silkworm pupae, sour cream and onion flavour crickets, buffalo dung beetles and a giant water bug in the Harvey Centre on Tuesday as part of the challenge.

The previous day he stepped on a bed of glass and yesterday (Wednesday) he was challenged to break a breeze block with his bare hands.

Mr Rogers, who was last year crowned the Harvey Centre's most daring dad, hopes to make money for Accuro, which provides services for disabled people, and PACT, a group for children with autism and other disorders.

The challenges continue in the Harvey Centre every day at 1pm until tomorrow (Friday) when Mr Rogers will be riding a unicycle.

Anybody wishing to sponsor him can do so at www.justgiving.com/daringdad.

School exhibition showcases new community sports centre

THE community of Sawbridgeworth was given the opportunity to see designs for a new sports centre development when the plans went on display.

Blueprints for the £5.6m project which will include a 2,036 sq.m. sports hall, all weather floodlit pitch, tennis courts, changing facilities, a modern gym and dance studio went on show at Leventhope School last week.

Money for the development has been raised by the sale of a piece of land belonging to the Sawbridgeworth school but additional funding opportunities are being pursued to ensure high-spec internal fixtures and fittings can be used.

Headteacher Jon Locke said "This is a tremendous opportunity for all of our students and for the local community as a whole."

Lucky couple win month's rent in agency prize draw

Throughout the months of February and March Guardian Residential, an established letting agency based in Harlow town centre, ran a promotion for one lucky tenant to win a month's rent.

There were more than 50 entries in the prize draw and the lucky winners were Efren Samonte and Leticia Tomas, who now rent a property in Harlow town centre.

The winners were pulled out of the hat by Joe Scrudata from the local business D&G barbers.

The winners, who have rented in the past through Guardian Residential, were delighted to win a month's rent totalling £675.

Leticia said: "Working as a nurse, we will find £675 very useful.

"Our son took the call to say we had won. I couldn't believe it when he called me at work to tell me."

Staff at Guardian Residential were very happy and felt Efran and Leticia were very worthy winners. They also hope they will remain as long-standing tenants.

Exhibition is a labour of love for artist Alan

AN exhibition showcasing a selection of dazzling paintings of some of the country's most incredible trees opens at The Gibberd Gallery on Saturday.

The exhibition, titled Fifty Great British Trees, is the culmination of a two-year labour of love for celebrated local artist Alan Burgess.

It features all 50 trees selected by The Tree Council to celebrate the Queen's Jubilee in 2002.

The paintings will be presented alongside some fascinating studies and sketches Alan made on location during the course of his 24-month project during which he travelled the length and breadth of the British Isles to capture each of his subjects in all their natural glory.

Trees included in the exhibition include the oldest in the whole of Europe, a sprawling tree which covers a quarter of an acre and a 2,000-year-old "tree" that is perhaps not quite as it seems.

The exhibition will run until June 27 and admission is free.

Follow the trails to enjoy art heritage

By CHRIS MOSS

SCRATCH beneath the crumbling concrete veneer of Harlow and you will discover a town with an understated yet impressively rich artistic heritage.

Far from being a stereotypical soulless post-war new town, it is home to one of the most significant collections of sculptures in the country.

And now The Harlow Art Trust has teamed up with Essex County Council to promote the sheer wealth of art on offer.

Visitors to the town can pick up a free copy of the illustrated Harlow Sculpture Map and explore an assortment of artistic riches peppered across the area by embarking on one of two fascinating arts trails.

Starting at the Gibberd Garden which itself features an astonishing 80 sculptures set among seven acres of beautifully landscaped grounds, The River Stort Art Trail is a picturesque journey along the banks of the River Stort which takes in the sculptures located at each of the four locks.

Joel Charles, vice-chairman of Harlow Council's environment and community committee, said: "The River Stort sculpture trail is an excellent project which draws on the long tradition within Harlow of siting sculpture in public spaces.

RIVER'S EDGE: Flowing Onwards by Angela Godfrey at Parndon Mill

"There are over 60 works for local residents and visitors to enjoy around the town. Some of the town and surrounding area's best scenery can be viewed along the River Stort. The sculptures, along with the improvements to the towpath, make this a great trail for everyone to enjoy this summer."

At the trail's end, arts adventurers will come upon Parndon Mill, a complex of Grade II listed buildings providing studio spaces for artists and designers and a public gallery exhibiting a variety of mixed media works.

For visitors also keen to do a spot of shopping, the Harlow Sculpture Trail takes in the stunning array of works located in the town centre and beyond, including Henry Moore's renowned Family Group and pieces by Ralph Brown, Gerda Rubinstein and FE McWilliam.

LAYDEEEES and gentlemen! The votes have been counted, the blood mopped up and all teeth returned to their rightful owners.

Now it's time for the remaining three bands to battle it out in Saturday's final of The Square's Rock Contest 2009. So step forward Ubaldo Esteban, Bite and Anything In Mind!

It's been a long, hard road for our battle-weary hopefuls but with perseverance, talent and deep pockets they have come far and now face one last test before the winner is finally crowned.

First up, let me reintroduce Ubaldo Esteban. Despite his name, he is not a promising Argentinean footballer and while he may look like Bon Jovi's hairdresser, don't be fooled. This is one hard-rocking SOB who likes to make your ears bleed when he's not busy hanging around in graveyards for inspiration.

Next in line we have fresh-faced punk popsters Bite, a sort of bubblegum Banshees who neatly avoid the traditional traps associated with tattooing your influences on your forehead by making such a gloriously gleeful and infectious racket it's impossible not to fall in love with them.

Last but by no means least are Anything In Mind, or AIM to acronym fans. A tender-aged quartet of lapsed bluesmen who coat their finger-lickin' good southern-fried rock 'n' roll in Caleb Followhill's special sauce, they are also prone to occasional outbursts of pristine proto-metal which can only be a very good thing.

So if the prospect of voting in the European elections leaves you cold but you still want to feel like you've done your bit, just imagine the bands as candidates and The Square as a polling station (only with beer and live music, which beats your local primary school hands down), and, bingo, your vote can make a difference!

DIRECTOR Sam Raimi, whose name is synonymous with the Evil Dead series, returns to the horror genre after box office success with Spider-Man and its high-flying sequels.

Christine Brown (Alison Lohman) works in Los Angeles as a loans officer and is keen to impress her boss Mr Jacks (David Paymer) and perhaps gain promotion as well as a hefty pay rise.

So when the enigmatic Mrs Ganush (Lorna Raver) comes into the bank to beg for an extension to her home loan, Christine is torn between giving the old lady more time, and denying her request.

Christine opts for ruthless ambition but pays the penalty when Mrs Ganush retaliates by placing a curse on the young woman and all around her, including her handsome professor boyfriend, Clay Dalton (Justin Long).

As an evil spirit slowly drives Christine to the brink of insanity, she seeks spiritual guidance from seer Rham Jas (Dileep Rao). But just how far is she willing to go in order to reclaim her old life?

Teen-scream brothers perform in 3D glory

new this week

JONAS BROTHERS: THE 3D CONCERT EXPERIENCE
certificate U 1h 16m

THE Jonas Brothers – aka good Christian boys Joe, Nick and Kevin – are an impeccably-styled, multi-million-dollar global phenomenon.

The siblings are pin-ups for an entire generation of excitable teenagers and the embodiment of modern family values, wearing purity rings to affirm their belief in no sex before marriage.

Fans around the world put Joe, Nick and Kevin on pedestals. Jonas Brothers: The 3D Concert Experience does it literally, hoisting the singers 20 feet above the heads of their squealing fans on tiny, circular platforms as the boys belt out Hello Beautiful.

This energetic concert film, recorded live at Madison Square Gardens in New York last year, polishes the Jonas brand to an even squeakier clean.

The film intercuts on-stage performances with backstage shenanigans, including a gratuitous shot of the boys in their changing area. There are also interviews with fanatical concertgoers and footage of the brothers playing sport, rehearsing and practising their back-flips and tumbles.

The 3D technology is used sparingly: sunglasses, a drumstick, plectrums and onstage pyrotechnics all appear to fly out of the screen and during an audience singalong Joe thrusts the microphone at the camera for us to join in.

No doubt there will be hordes of girls foaming at the mouth at the prospect of Joe, Nick and Kevin singing mostly in tune. Parents should be thankful their suffering clocks in at only 76 minutes.

bright now

Think of a bowl of cherries on a summer day and what you'll conjure up is an irresistible image. Think of the zingy green of newly cut grass and it brings with it a sense of calm and wellbeing; the vivid lemon of primroses; the azure blue of a summer sky!

Colour works a magic like nothing else to create visual and emotional drama whether it's in the natural world around us, the clothes we wear or the things we surround ourselves with at home.

So what better way to achieve a really cost-effective and inspiring makeover for your home than by adding some fabulous colour?

Just one bright chair can transform your place from good looking to really stunning, creating a statement that can't be ignored or overlooked. Intense colour really does mean big impact and real style.

For maximum effect create a blank canvas before introducing bright statement pieces such as the contemporary Oasis corner unit or Lenny chair which combines beautiful curves with cutting edge design and is sure to be the centre of attention in any room. Alternatively soften the impact a little by choosing several items in the same tone.

Or if you just want a quick update for the summer months introduce colour through something simple and cost effective like new accessories. Fishpools' Balzac table lamp in scarlet is a great example of how to accessorise the 'colour pop' look while the Bloom cushions provide a zing of heady summer flowers.

So take a trip to Fishpools where you'll find inspirational roomsets that get your imagination running riot with a feast of colour combinations!

Scrap

End of the road for your vehicle?

Driver and Vehicle Licensing Agency

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

Environment Agency

BERR

End of the road? Get over it and move on with your local ATF:

B & T Motor Salvage

We offer free collection, on the same day if necessary, using our own recovery vehicles and issue a Certificate of Destruction from the Department of Vehicle Licensing Authority via our direct link to their website. Payment per vehicle negotiable.

Call Adrian or Liam on 01707 391333

Second chance to get Numbers up

Welcome to Inside Track, our column that gives you the reader an insight into Harlow Greyhound Stadium as our top tipster reveals his favourites for tomorrow (Friday May 29).

THE owners of local greyhound NUMBERS MAN must have been left scratching their heads after he threw away what looked like a simple opportunity last week.

To be fair to the dog he performed with great credit as he managed to only just get beaten in a photo finish after walking from the starting traps.

Hopefully he will be a lot sharper at the start this time around and he can make amends at 8.30pm this Friday.

Local trainer Phil Simmonds has his team in excellent form at the moment and his improving puppy SLIPPER can help to continue the trainer's good run.

Slipper was well fancied to score last week but found significant trouble in running and can be forgiven for his defeat.

With a better trap draw to contend with this week he can resume winning ways.

Friday May 29 selections:

7.30pm Koala Barns; 7.45pm Honcho Bill; 8pm Slipper; 8.15pm Lislevane Light; 8.30pm Numbers Man; 8.45pm Myra Said So; 9pm Lord Pishy; 9.15pm Kengelfutosweet; 9.30pm Droopys Jimmy; 9.45pm Blackey Said So; 10pm Centaur Sandi; 10.15pm Rank N File.

Harry (81) seals vet club record

HARRY Woodward took pride of place when he was one of three Harlow Running Club members to complete the Hatfield Broad Oak 10K race.

The 81-year-old clocked a fantastic time of 68 mins 21 secs to create a new veteran 80 club record in Bank Holiday Monday's annual race through the Essex village.

Linda Selby set a new club vet 60 record of 52:40, while Julian Tamplin continued his progress as he recorded a personal best (PB) and new club U-20 record time of 38:11. He was 53rd overall.

Harlow fielded 40 runners from a field of more than 1,100 and their first finisher, Justin Revell, was 27th in 36:36. He was followed home by Alan Broughton (49th in 48:03).

Dionne Jones was the first Harlow woman in a PB of 43:28 and she was followed home by Katie Herrington (46:45, PB).

Running

Harlow's men's and women's teams finished respectively 4th and 11th. The positions were determined by the top four runners for each side.

Other Harlow RC results were: Steve Mackenzie 38.39; Rick Ricketts 39:09; John Tennant 39:53; Andy Terrell 42:12; Jamie Luck 43:16; John Bull 43:23 PB; Pasquale Pellecchia 43:56; Grahame Thomas 44:46; Martin McColgan 46:01; Daniel Chapman 47:31; Ron Newton 47:42; Jeffrey Tamplin 48:54; Alan Clucas 52:03; Ian Gibson 52:04; Joanne Chung 52:26 PB; Andy Presland 54:43; Alison Bull 54:47; Joanne Mills 55:37; Ann Somerville 56:47; Susan Dewen 57:12 PB; Sarah Webber 57:24; Janice Forth 58:39; Kim Wookey 58:55 PB; Debbie Coombes 59:06 PB; Ron Luck 59:18; Wendy Spring 59:19; David Howes 61:33; Janet Webster 61:53; Sean Fowler 63:25; Michael Guinan 63:52; Susie Morley 65:56; Melanie Harris 69:15 Alf Keen 69:21.

The second meeting of the Harlow 5K Ladies Series race was once again won by Lauren Macgregor from Orion Running Club in 19:22.

The first Harlow runner was Dionne Jones in a PB of 21:25. She was fourth overall and second vet35 woman.

Just nine days after completing the Halstead Marathon in second. Harlow's Vicky Steadman was 10th in a very creditable 22:34.

MAKING PROGRESS: Julian Tamplin set an U-20 club record (s)

Harlow were second, behind Ford Fitness.

Other Harlow RC results: Katie Herrington 22:42 PB; Joanne Chung 24:44; Clare Williams 24:51; Karen Moir 25:49; Alison Bull 26:38; Georgina Spenceley 26:55; Katie Syme 27:08; Susan Dewen 27:24 PB; Ruth O'Connor 28:03 PB; Kim Wookey 28:43; Debbie Coombs 28.50 PB; Wendy Spring 28:55; Linda Hawkins 29:09; Amelia Palas 29:09; Janet Webster 30:18; Kuzna Jackson 40:26 PB.

Harlow's David Croly (43:25, PB) and Will Shoults (49:58) completed the BUPA London 10,000m alongside more than 8,000 other runners.

Meanwhile, former Harlow Running Club member Russell Maddams, won the 50K English National Ultra Distance Championship title in a brilliant time of 3 hrs, 6mins and 59 secs.

This win means Maddams, who now lives in Cumbria, has earned a place in the England team and will make his international debut in Gibraltar later this year.

STRIKER SWITCH Hawks boss Glen Alzapiedi hopes to bring in a new striker

Hawks boss awaits FA Non-League decision

GLEN Alzapiedi's plans for building up his Hawks squad for next season should become clearer when the Non-League structure for the 2009-10 campaign is announced by the FA tomorrow (Friday).

The announcement is coming later than normal as an appeal hearing is being held today involving various clubs.

Harlow Town were relegated from the Ryman League premier division at the end of last season.

However, they might get a reprieve if certain clubs are forced to drop down due to financial problems.

Harlow boss Alzapiedi said: "In my mind we are in Ryman division one north [step four] but if we are in step three, there would be a wider pool of players I could look at."

Aside from central midfield, the right-back and the goalkeeper positions, Alzapiedi's main task is to replace striker Jamie Richards. He has spoken to a forward who played in the Ryman premier last term. "I want somebody who has pace and has a physical presence," Alzapiedi said.

Tomas earns place at national champs

Swimming

A YOUNG swimmer has booked a spot in the British Gas ASA National Championships.

Tomas Stevens, above, from Deer Park, Harlow will be competing in the 11-year-old age group at Ponds Forge in Sheffield in July.

Tomas, who is a member of Hoddesdon Swimming Club, clinched his place with a time of 2 mins 33.56 secs in the 200m backstroke at the licensed 1 Hatfield UK Challenge Open.

This was well inside the qualifying time of 2:37.19.

Tomas, who attends Jerounds Junior School in Harlow, is the current Hertfordshire champion in his age group.

He is ranked first nationally in the 11-years 50m backstroke. He is also ranked 5th nationally in the 200m backstroke.

Wendy Stevens, Tomas's mother, said: "It's a great achievement. He has trained really hard and been to top galas."

Earlier this year Tomas missed out on victory at an open competition in Milton Keynes in Buckinghamshire, by 0.6s.

Tomas will also be competing at the East regional championships in Norwich in June.

Hawks groundsman pitches in at Wembley

PITCHING IN: Dave Bidwell on the famous turf at Wembley Stadium on Sunday prior to the League One play-off between Millwall and Scunthorpe (s)

HAWKS groundsman Dave Bidwell helped prepare the playing surface at Wembley Stadium for the play-off matches which culminated in Burnley's victory over Sheffield United on Monday.

Bidwell was invited down after a tip-off from a pitch contractor colleague.

He worked with the ground staff at England's national stadium to get the pitch ready for the three matches – Wembley's busiest period of the year.

"You wouldn't believe how seriously they take it," explained Dave.

"When you think that there were 10 of us just doing the divots in the grass for five hours – that's the equivalent of 50 hours' work.

"And if the governor there saw as much as a stud mark in the grass, you had to go back over it!"

Bidwell took on the Barrows Farm job last summer alongside a similar role he has at Broxbourne Borough FC.

He was part of a 10-strong team responsible for clearing the pitch after the warm-ups before Sunday's League One play-off final between Millwall and Scunthorpe. He also carried out half-time ground work before the players emerged for the second half.

After the game, he helped prepare the playing surface for the Coca-Cola Championship showdown between Burnley and the Blades.

"It was a very good experience and it was interesting to see how they do it at that level," Bidwell added.

Salvation in third

SALVATION Army were awarded the points from the final match of the Footprint Bishop's Stortford, Stansted & District Football League season on Saturday.

The Harlow side, who finished third, were due to host Quendon Athletic in the premier division but they were unable to raise a side.

Champions Alemite Athletic were held to a 2-2 home draw against Salvation Army in their final match.

Anthony James and Rob Garaty struck for Alemite.

On target for the visitors were Nathan Blake and Niall Boland.

In division one, Sheering reserves won 3-1 at Hatfield Heath reserves.

Athletes help Essex to UK success

Athletics

THREE local athletes helped Essex sweep the board for the first time ever in the CAU UK Inter Counties Championships at Bedford last weekend.

Essex won the Achilles Trophy (men's event) the Bedford Plate (women's event) and the Gemini Trophy (overall winners).

Harlow's Markus Hunt (18) came third in a senior men's 400m heat in 48.11 secs.

This booked him a spot in the final where he was unfortunate to draw lane 8 and finished 6th in 48.12s.

The winner, Conrad Williams, broke the Championship record, clocking 46.05s.

Essex spokesman John Stow said: "Mark was brilliant when you consider he is completing his exams at present, which is his main priority.

"He will start his speed training soon in preparation for the junior UK champs and European trials."

Kirsty McIntosh, also from Harlow, achieved 6th place in the women's pole vault with a season's best of 3.30m.

North Weald's Joanne Ryan was placed with the elite athletes and joined UK 400m champion Henrietta Sims, who was the sole scorer for Essex.

Joanne ran 56.32s and this was the fastest 400m time of several non-scoring runners.

At the South of England Championships in Ashford, Kent, Harlow's Dan Yaxley improved his personal best in the 1,500m steeplechase. He cut his time down to 4 mins 55 secs when he came 7th.

Herts & Essex Cricket Leage, div two

ASHLEY Alderson starred with the ball, taking 5-35, as Harlow Town crushed Birchanger at home to maintain top spot in division two.

Harlow Town's seamer opened the bowling on Saturday and gave his side a tremendous start by dismissing both openers. They were caught behind the stumps by wicket-keeper Pat Yates.

Alderson then ripped out the middle order with three wickets in 12 balls to leave Birchanger floundering on 58-6.

Birchanger's number three batsmen Savanna batted sensibly but once he was out, caught for 52, the innings fell away as the visitors set Town just 127 to win.

Simon Rowell also took 2-14 for Harlow.

In reply, the hosts got off to a flyer with Yates and Shiraz Ali scoring 30 in the first four overs before the former was given out lbw for 22.

Fellow opening bat Shiraz Ali made sure there were no more scares with an unbeaten innings of 51 to blitz Town to victory from just 21 overs.

Reflecting on Town's success so far this season (four wins from four matches), vice-captain Dan Calver said: "Ashley bowled well to take five wickets and I took five the week before.

"We also have two or three good spinners and there is no let-up for the opposition. We have more depth than we used to have before and three people came in for the last game and there was no difference at all."

He added: "Twelve or thirteen wins [from 18] should be enough to get promotion but we want to win all 18 games."

Harlow Town IIs (175-9) lost their first match of the season when they were defeated by five wickets against Stansted (177-5).

Half centuries by Nick Teale (51) and Brian Lall (56) were not enough to save Town and Stansted chased down the target successfully.

Division seven leaders Harlow Town thirds (203-6) preserved their unblemished record with a 33-run victory against Hockerill (170-4).

Shaun Alderson was the man-of-the-match after making an unbeaten 55 while Dan Farmer (39) also batted well for Town.

In division three, Potter Street (167) thrashed Woodford Wells IV (74) by 93 runs.

Overseas blow for luckless Sawbo

CRUEL luck has been suffered by Sawbridgeworth Cricket Club in their bid to get an overseas player on board this season.

Jamaica all-rounder David Bernard was due to play for the Town Fields Club but the Town Fields club were forced to look elsewhere after he was named in the West Indies squad for the tour of England.

Sawbo then turned to Praneth Jayasundera as their overseas player but this route has also proved unproductive.

Jayasundera was forced to go back to Sri Lanka two weeks ago to attend the funeral of his father-in-law.

And on Tuesday, Sawbridgeworth learned that Jayasundera's wife has been refused a visa.

Sawbo skipper Danny Wilson could not hide his disappointment but hopes that his team can emerge stronger from it.

He said: "We have been told by the agent that his wife has been refused a visa. There is every chance he will not be playing for us. It has been disruptive and frustrating for the side.

"There are a couple of options [for the club to recruit a new overseas player] we can pursue but we may have to turn this negative into a positive if people can raise their games and turn in match-winning performances."

Jayasundera was missing for both Sawbridgeworth's matches over the Bank Holiday weekend.

On Monday, Sawbo lost by 32 runs at home to close rivals Bishop's Stortford in the first round of the Twenty-20 Knockout Cup.

David Hughes scored a rapid 52 to get the visitors off to a tremendous start.

Zimbabwean Glenn Querl made an important 39 off 25 balls near the end of the innings which proved crucial as Stortford posted 179-6.

William Jones (4-34) was Sawbo's best bowler.

In reply, Steve Ashman made an impressive 49 but wickets fell regularly and Sawbo could only muster 147.

Two days earlier, Sawbridgeworth (210-7), lost by nine wickets at North Mymms (214-1) in the Home Counties Premier League division two east.

Second win means tide is turning

Cont'd from back

Earlier, Luke Heskett removed the Wood opener Mullah Mohammed Moin. He was caught behind by Harlow's young wicket-keeper Nino Calvino for 2.

Thotiwilage took the wickets of Grant Apicella (17) and Raihan Hussain (0) as the hosts reached 55-3.

Craig Sampson then joined David Hollingsworth and the pair added 77 for the fourth wicket before McNally had the latter caught by Calvino for 72.

Sampson went on to make 77 and Naheem Sohail notched 38 before being stumped by Calvino off Heskett, who finished with 4-44.

Calvino took an impressive five catches, including three stumpings off the bowling of Heskett.

Butler added: "Luke bowled beautifully – his best spell this season – and Nino showed why he is one of the best 'keepers in our division."

After Saturday's league match against Leigh-on-Sea, Harlow visit neighbours Harlow Town in the annual Proudlock Cup match on Sunday (1.30pm).

In division one of the 2nd XI championship, Harlow (206-9; Iain Nuttall 50) drew with Hutton II (213-8) while Harlow thirds (108-4) won their first game of the season in division one when they beat Hutton III (105; Dan Stopp 4-20, Lewis Aldred 4-19) by six wickets.

In the 4th XI division three west, Harlow IV (116) lost by 106 runs at Wanstead VI (222-6).

On Sunday, Harlow (165-4, Lee Jessey 67) beat Stallion (163) by six wickets.

The tide is turning

Second win means bad start is distant memory

THE confidence of Harlow received a massive boost as James Butler's side pulled off their second consecutive successful run chase to win at Harold Wood on Saturday.

All-rounder Jason McNally, pictured right, played a starring role with a 64-ball 92 not out for Harlow who have now recorded back-to-back league victories following a disappointing start.

It means Harlow approach this Saturday's home clash against Leigh-on- Sea in good heart. Indian batsman Abhishek Jhunjhunwala will return after finishing his commitments with the ICL (Indian Cricket League).

Harlow captain Butler said: "Jason's innings was a breathtaking knock, one of the best I have seen for a few seasons.

"He really hit the ball cleanly and it was an indication of what he is capable of doing when his confidence is up."

Facing Wood's daunting score of 252 on Saturday, Harlow started badly as Rehman Ahmed was trapped lbw for 1 by Usman Khan.

But Waqas Akhtar and Sri Lankan Malinda Thotiwilage (30) batted well before the latter nicked one to the wicket-keeper.

Nick Butler continued the good work, running well with Akhtar and this pair added 80 for the third wicket.

Harlow suffered a setback when Nick Butler (32) and Akhtar (36) were both trapped lbw. The game was in the balance and in strode McNally who, after a few sighters, proceeded to hammer the bowling.

Aided by some top batting and running between the wickets from Darren Green (28), McNally took Harlow to victory with six overs to spare.

Luke's a natural Bowen winner!

EASY RIDER: Luke Bowen salutes the crowd on Monday (PMVQ294Q.10)

HARLOW'S Luke Bowen starred as Rye House Rockets registered a thumping home victory when they over-ran Workington Comets by a whopping 23-point margin on Bank Holiday Monday.

While all the Rockets scored consistently, the performance of Bowen was especially impressive in the reserve berth as he collected a 12-point haul from his six rides.

This added to his impressive 13-point tally in the away fixture two days earlier against the same opposition.

Rockets skipper Chris Neath was unbeaten and top scored with 15 in this one-sided fixture.

There was a frightening moment in Heat 5, as Rockets guest Robert Ksiezak – in for Tommy Allen – lifted and collided with Adrian Rymel.

Both riders hurtled through the fourth bend safety fence, but fortunately were able to walk away from the smash. Rymel was withdrawn from the rest of the meeting with suspected concussion following the re-run.

With Neath having already dropped out of the race with mechanical problems, the Comets collected an unopposed 5-0 in the re-staging to pull the score back to 19-10, only for the Rockets to pull away again with a maximum of their own from Linus Sundstrom and Robert Mear in the next heat.

There were some exciting tussles in the latter stages of the match. Mear stalked Kevin Doolan for the duration of Heat 10 before driving past the Aussie right on the line to take the win.

Then, in almost identical fashion, Sundstrom sneaked past Andre Compton on the final run-in to take the chequered flag in a blanket finish to Heat 13.

The Rockets had returned home pointless from a dramatic match at Workington on Saturday, losing 49-41.

The visitors were in with a shout of at least a match point entering the nominated race, only for a 5-1 from Rymel and Doolan to scupper their hopes.

Bowen reeled off three race wins and 13+1 points, and that total could have been even higher but for a close run Heat 11 which saw the Harlow racer just edged for second spot by former Premier League Riders Champion Compton.

Sundstrom's first visit to Derwent Park was also memorable. The 18-year-old won two races on his way to a 12-point haul, and also featured in two dramatic finishes.

His persistent efforts left him just short of Compton in the race for second place in Heat 4, but he was rewarded with a pass right on the line ahead of Richard Lawson for second in Heat 9.
